

DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

GRANTED THAT

- the property and building heritage belonging to the public sector constitutes a social and economic value of fundamental importance for the country, has many wide-ranging areas for potential valorization and can become a growth factor for the economy;
- this potential can be best exploited if adequately supported by models, information and expertise aimed at promoting initiatives towards a return on the investment and at maximizing the positive effects these may have on the development of the territories;
- the Agenzia del Demanio, MiBACT and MIT, with the active involvement of Anas S.p.A. and various territories throughout the country, have started the “CAMMINI E PERCORSI” project in order to valorize a network of public buildings located along historical-religious and cycling-walking paths and trails, linked to the theme of slow tourism, to discover and explore the territories through slow travel, also focusing on less well-known destinations;
- a selection has been made of properties owned by the State, other public entities and Anas S.p.A. located along historical-religious and cycling-walking routes, with the aim of reclaiming, renovating and re-using them for services to the slow traveler, i.e. to the tourist, the walker, the pilgrim and the cyclist, to be started up in the “CAMMINI E PERCORSI” project;

HAVING REGARD THAT

the “CAMMINI E PERCORSI” Public Consultation, online on the Agenzia del Demanio’s website, is not binding for either promoters or participants, whose proposals do not predetermine any right or condition regarding whatever subsequent decisions may be taken by the promoters with their discretionary administrative powers
